OUR PRECEPTORS.

HE comfort of teachers and students, as well as the efficiency of the school work all along the line, depends in large measure on the character and work of the preceptors.

We have to congratulate ourselves that we have skilled and capable teachers in charge of the dormitories. This is especially true since tactful, firm, and kindly men and women are getting to be very difficult to secure for this work. All over the country presidents of schools and colleges are complaining of the searcity of available material to work into such positions.

Miss Leonard is utilizing the forces at her command with the skill springing from years of work in this field. Gradually the plastic clay is being worked into forms of beauty.

Mr. Jack's calm and unruffled demeanor has brought the Boys' Dormitory into such shape that the hall teachers, and they surely know, are able to say that this past term has been the most satisfactory one which they have seen in years.

COVER DESIGN.

HE cover of this issue was designed by Dora M. Brombach, of Freeport, Pa. Miss Brombach is a member of the Supervisors' class in drawing and also in music. We do not know which to congratulate the more, Miss Brombach on her artistic work or the Art Department on the skill with which it brings out the talent of the student.

CUSHION DESIGNS.

HE cushions reproduced in the plates were designed and painted by the students in the regular classes in drawing.

THE VALUE OF CONVENTIONS.

HE human race—has found that efficiency depends great degree on the formation of good habits and of the habit of practicing these habits. Any one who has watched a nest of ants must have been impressed with the thought that they, also, have been convinced of the value of this trait in a member of the colony, so prompt and efficient is their action when confronted by any one of the usual difficulties to which antdom is subiect. A social habit we call a "convention", and one of the chief duties of the teacher in a primary or a secondary school is to nurse and strengthen the conventions of good society.

In certain places and at certain times, we set aside the conventions: on the fronteer the pioneer discards his coat when he finds it too warm and we who are conventionalized enjoy the fruits of his toil. Similarly in our universities we foster the growth of men and women who are unconventional in thought, word, and conduct, and much which treasure is the product of men who were unconventional, from who was burned at the stake to those who are being burned by a fire more slow. Yet we must recognize that the unconventional habits of thought, speech, and conduct, acquired by some men in the universities, are a bar to their success in secondary work

The success which women are meeting in the field of teaching is in considerable measure due to their fine sense of convention, to their promptness in detecting and correcting breaches of good manners, in word or conduct. So long as the boys are chance visitors to our school and the course of study and the conduct of the schools are decided by the needs and interests of the girls. the proportion of women teachers will be large.

We inherit many judgments, things which concern us most vitally. and these judgments are accompanied by their appropriate paths of discharge in the brain. To sail safely over the shoals of life, the average man or woman must follow these intuitive judgments blindly, for the processes of reflection and deliberation are too slow to save him from the rocks. Such a person, however, may make a prosperous voyage if he has been trained to observe the conventions, personal, social, and religious.

WASTE IN AMERICAN SCHOOL SYSTEMS.

TTENTION is being drawn to the inefficiency in the work done by our Navy Department. Here the proof of inefficiency or efficiency—is not difficult since it is known how much it costs a private shipyard to turn out a battleship and, in spite of the attempts of government navy yards to conceal the true cost, approximately what it costs the government to build such a ship. This inefficiency runs through government work, at least in America.

Our public school system in America is suffering from the same trouble, and a comparison of the work done in businesses under private control and the public schools should show where some of the loss is to be looked for. In a privately conducted enterprise just as few employes are utilized as can be made to do the work. and the wages are high enough secure laborers who will not waste time and material. In our public schools the opposite policy seems to be pursued. Teachers are put on the work until the school looks like Claire's kitchen, in Uncle Tom's cabin, so many servants that they get in each other's way. We are not making the charge that the teachers are idle. St. Claire's servants were probably busy enough, in their way, but the general level of efficiency was so low that less was accomplished than would have been accomplished by a smaller number of efficient workers.

Some students of our schools maintain that we waste about three years of the average child's life. This waste is due to the fact that we are trying to run our schools with per labor. A higher average ciency must be secured before we can stop this waste of money, time and souls.

Among the causes of this condition there may be mentioned the desire of superintendents to make a brave showing by installing numerous courses where the students who cannot be driven may be wheedled.

We Americans should clean house before our next great war, that trial which Providence furnishes us at times to see whether we have buried our talent in a napkin.

FACULTY INSTITUTE.

IIE Faculty Institute meetings are proving of much interest At the last meeting Miss Chesebrough presented an able paper on student government. This was followed by discussions by Mrs. Sawyer and Mr. Gordon and other members of the facultv.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT AT IN-DIANA.

S a result of a feeling that it is a good movement and that we should like to see it tried here, there was a meeting twenty-five boys early March, called to discuss whether we should like to try self-government. After much talking in favor of making a trial of it and some talking against it, we decided to make the plunge. We then elected our officers, president, J. Leonard Smith; vice president, F. W. Coulter; secretary, J. L. Shields, treasurer, John Baird.

The president then took charge of the meeting and the usual routine in such cases was carried out.

This movement has been carried through in many other schools, in other states, and we want to see it tried in this state and this school.

J. L. SMITH.

THE EXPERIENCES OF A SEN-IOR AT THE HEAD OF A TA-BLE IN THE DINING ROOM.

Great is the surprise and consternation of a senior—when he is told that he is to have charge—of a table in the dining room.

One of the first questions that enters his mind is, "What students are at your table?" This question in my case was soon answered because seven, happy people soon told me they were to be at my table, thus relieving my mind of one question only to have it form another, "Whom shall we have for the other three places?"

The next week these vacancies were all filled and everything went on smoothly for the next few weeks until we were deprived of one of our number by her taking the chicken-pox.

Thus matters stood for some time until a new student arrived and we were fortunate enough to secure the new arrival; and now we have our table with seven girls and three boys.

At first instead of changing places each one sat where he pleased, but the girls soon grew tired of this because the boys usually sat near the head of the table thus leaving the girls all the work to do. Now we draw slips and each one sits at the place indicated on the slip for one week.

One of the characteristics of the people at the table is that they are usually very happy, which is a good quality for a teacher. All care seems to be forgotten when they come to the table and teasing, fun and laughter take its place, thus making the hour spent at the table among the happiest of the day.

One of the most delightful reminders of our many happy times was our trip to Hauxhurst, and who could think of such a trip—as the one—to Hauxhurst as being—other—than—a pleasant one, for think of the—many delightful things prepared for—you when you arrive.

We had a beautiful evening for our trip, with a cold, piercing air, just the kind to give one an appetite after a walk of that length. We had Mr. and Mrs. Jack and Miss Cogswell for chaperons, thus making fourteen in all.

Certainly, Mrs. Hauxhurst never had a table there that did more instice to the good things than this one. The large platter of chicken quickly disappeared, and a second plate peared, heaped with the most licious buns. The chief feature of the dinner was the waffles, and no one need ask if they were enjoyed because time after time the plate was refilled, until at last we were told that if we wanted any more we should have to wait about fifteen minutes. The boys, especially, were sorry to hear this, but decided not to wait.

After we had been served with a delicious dessert of sliced oranges and cake, we left the table and sat around the pleasant fire telling stories until we were reminded that it was time to return to Sutton Hall.

We all enjoyed the walk home because the wind had abated by this time and it was a beautiful moonlight evening. We arrived at school in time to resume our studies for the evening and in the meantime think of the delightful time we had had.

MARGARET R. HODGSON.

Y. W. C. A.

The work of the Y. W. C. A. is being carried on with the usual zeal and earnestness.

At the beginning of this term a reception was held for the new students, at which they were given an opportunity to get acquainted with the old students. Music was furnished for entertainment and light refreshments were served.

Mr. Bryan has been secured to lecture for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. on the 8th of March. His visit is anticipated with a great deal of enthusiasm

Four delegates, Miss Hatch, Miss Boon, Miss Scanor and Miss Ramsay have been elected to attend a conference held in Beaver March 12-15. We hope they will bring back the spirit of the conference.

STELLA FULTON, Sec.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association has been doing good work this term. We have had very interesting Thursday evening meetings in spite of our one great drawback. a of music. Our Bible classes have greatly increased in enrollment over last term. We have four regular classes, the largest of which Prof. Heckel teaches. The Association engaged Dr. George S. Holmes to deliver his lecture, "The Story of the Ages," in the chapel, Monday evening, Feb. 4th. With the help of the girls we were able to sell a large number of tickets, both among the students and down town. We cleared. above all expenses, $32.25. We sent two delegates to the State Conference, held at Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 19 to 22.

JOHN N. CAMP.

THE HUYGHENIAN SOCIETY.

The Huyghenian Society still carries, with it, its usual record of exeellent work. Their meetings in Chapel during last term showed honest effort on the part of every one, with very good results. With very few exceptions each person placed on the program appeared in his place with well prepared work, and we know that any who did not appear had good excuses for not doing so, for no Huyghenian would shirk duty.

The one important feature of a Literary Society is its debate. Last term, each night, our debaters appeared with carefully prepared and logical arguments. The orations were diligently prepared, and when they were delivered from the Chapel platform we saw in the speaker, a power just awakening that sometime may sway thousands by its cloquence.

We had a program in the Huyghenian Hall for new students alone, and we have some very good material remaining in the Society for next year.

BLAIR MOORHEAD, BESS HANKEY.

THE ERODELPHIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

If the Erodelphian Literary Society kept a year book in which were recorded all those things which are of most worth to its members, and which have in any way raised its standard, would you as Erodelphians, not have some curiosity to see the page of 1908-1909?

But before you turn to that page which is yours, and which you are making and adding to, each time you meet as a body, let me ask you if you have, by your efforts, by your aspirations, by your achievements done anything to add to the former glory of the Erodelphian Literary Society, if you by your zealous work have in any way made better your society. If to these two questions you can truly answer, "I have," then to you alone is 1909's page open.

Will you, Senior Erodelphians, leave vacant the page of your year where upon it the impression of your accomplishments, ideals, and worthiness should rest? Would you concede that there was ever a better class than yours, a class capable of better work? You know you would not voluntarily. Yet, unconsciously, you are doing this every time you let slip an opportunity to do something for the good of your society.

There are some members who are invaluable to the society, in fact all Erodelphians are invaluable to their society, only a great many of them have not made known their valuableness. Are you one of these? If you are, wake up and do something. Then when your opportunity comes to look at the year book, you can say, "By a little effort, I added to the glory of 1909's page."

CASSANDRA.

MR. TAFT'S LECTURE.

February 26th, we enjoyed one of the best numbers on our lecture course. Lorado Taft, with the aid of his assistant and pupil. Mr. Crumelle, gave an illustrated lecture on sculptors and sculpturing. The speaker introduced us to the interior of a sculptor's studio, and showed us how marvellously lifelike clay forms can be made by the hands of an artist. Mr. Taft's delivery was charming, and the lecture was humorous and instructive. He gave us a new reverence for, and appreciation of, the sculptor's work.

A FACULTY WEDDING.

During the Christmas holidays, two members of the Music Department faculty, Miss Alice Crane and Mr. William Wrigley, were married at the bride's home, Garrettsville, Ohio. Both have won the cordial liking of the faculty and students and have our good wishes.

RECEPTION.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wrigley, the faculty gave a reception Saturday, Jan. 22nd. The trustees and their wives were invited. The bride wore her white satin gown and beautifully looked her part. Mrs. Wrigley is an accomplished pianist and Mr. Wrigley has delighted all by his violin work. Both studied in Germany at the same time, and their marriage is a romantic ending to that meeting abroad, Mr. Cogswell made a most happy use of this romance in his speech in which he presented to Mr. and Mrs. Wrigley an artistic music cabinet, a wedding gift from the faculty.

SENIOR PROMENADE.

The great event of the Winter Term took place on the 20th of February. Instead of the usual Colonial Ball the Seniors gave a Promenade which proved a pleasing and successful innovation.

The various rooms and Halls were decorated for the occasion. Recreation Hall looked like a vine clad arbor with its festoon of electric lights, imbedded in the foliage. In one end of the hall a large moon had been hung, and while the two moon dances were in progress this with the 1909 in electric lights at the other end of the hall was the only light given out.

In the hall, Red Room and Green Rooms were divans and easy chairs which found willing occupants between the dances. Refreshments were served in the Library, which was decorated with flags, class colors and flowers.

A reception committee from the Faculty and Schior Class received the guests in the Red Room from 6:30 until 7:00 when the music started. From that time until 11:30 enjoyment by all was highest.

When 11:30 came and we had danced that "Home Sweet Home Waltz" every one was ready to acknowledge it was the best dance ever given at Normal.

ATHLETIC PROSPECTS.

While the old school has been making progress in every way, the advance in the standard of our athletics has fully kept pace with the other improvements. Our baseball and track teams were last spring more successful than they have been for many years, while the football team of last Fall was one of the best that ever represented the school.

If we have reason to look back over the achievements of the past year with pride, we have still more cause for rejoicing when we look forward to the records which we expect our stardy athletes to make next Spring. We have every reason to believe that the Crimson and Slate will be better represented both on the diamond and on the track than ever before.

As a nucleus for the baseball team we have such experienced men as McCullough, Gayley, Long and Martin, of last year's team. These men have been tried and are not found wanting. In addition, "Jimmy" Pierce, captain of the team last year, is expected to return to Indiana next term. His ability is unquestioned, and his presence seems to inspire the other players with greater confidence, "Bill" Pierce, Coulter and Leonard Smith are other old men who have a chance to make the team this year.

Of the new material, Baird looms up above all the others. In addition to being a pitcher with a plentiful supply of speed, curves and control, he is a finished first baseman and ean hit the ball hard. He should be a tower of strength to the team. Felgar, who played center so well on the football team, is another promising candidate for the first team. He can eatch, play first base or the outfield with equal skill, and should have no trouble in winning for himself a regular place on the team.

When Captain McCullough issues his call for candidates there will be found a goodly supply of material from which to pick a fast outfield. With last year's stonewall infield practically intact, Baird and "Jimmy" in the box and McCullough behind the bat directing the movements of the entire team, Grove City. Westminster, Kiski and the other teams on the schedule are likely to leave Indiana sadder but wiser men.

Under the watchful eye of Professor Jack the track men have been doing considerable work indoors, and when spring opens up they should be in splendid shape. The Indiana Relay team last year won the Normal School championship of the state, but the quartette on the team this year should prove much faster. Myers, Castenada, McCullough and make a combination that can with the best college teams in the Practically every member of last year's winning squad will be in school in the spring, and, with a year's added experience, they should be able to distance all rivals.

R. G. RODKEY, '09.

On the twenty-ninth of December five members of the Track Team journeyed to Pittsburg to compete in the indoor meet held at that place.

Allan A. Kerr, a prominent jeweler of Philadelphia, had offered a silver cup to the Preparatory or High School scoring the most points in four events: One Hundred Yards, Half Mile, High Jump and Mile Relay. Normal, Pittsburg. Rochester, Beaver and New Brighton High were the schools represented.

McCullough got third place in the Hundred and Bruce won out in the Half. As was predicted Casteneda easily won the high jump. Prof. Wm. Jack also demonstrated his ability in this line, winning both the Open and the Olympic events. Myers won his heat in the Open Hundred Yard Hurdles, but did not place in the finals.

The last and deciding event of the meet was the Relay. The Normal runners were Bruce, Long. Castaneda and Myers, running in that order. In this event Normal clearly proved her superior ability, winning decisively. Casteneda was the star in the event.

Casteneda and Bruce each received a gold medal and McCullough a bronze one for their performances.

The members of the Relay team were each presented with a silver cup. The addition of the large and beautiful team cup to our collection reminds us that a trophy case will be a necessity in the near future.

The most pleasant event of the day, however, was the dinner given by Miss Janet Clark, to whom we are indebted for a delightful evening.

100-yard dash, prep. and high schools—First heat—A. Comensky, Pittsburgh H. S., first; John Snure, Rochester H. S., second; Beverley Carter, Beaver, H. S., third. Time, 10 4-5 seconds.

Second heat—Richard McCullough, Indiana Normal, first; James

Parker, Beaver H. S., second; Martin, Pittsburgh H. S., third. Time, 10 3-5 seconds.

Final—Parker won, Comensky second, McCullough third. Time 11 seconds.

Relay (prep. and high schools)—Indiana Normal won, Pittsburgh High school second, Beaver High school third. Time 3:55 1-5.

Half-mile, prep. and high schools—Bruce, Indiana Normal, won; Scholl, Pittsburgh H. S., second; Blair, Pittsburgh H. S., third. Time, 2:15-2-5.

At the Johnstown Meet, March 12th, there were two events open to schools. Both went to Indiana in fast time. Jack Hamill won the one mile run, after a hard race with Corbin of Altoona High School, time 4:58; this is a new school record. The relay team, composed of Bruce, Smith, McCullough, and Castaneda, won an exciting race with Pittsburgh High School second, Altoona, third, and Johnstown, fourth. The time. 3:46 1-5 is also a new school record. The work done in these two meets promises success in the out-door meets in the spring term.

BASKET BALL NOTES.

The first season of the Indiana Normal Girls' Basket Ball Team opened December 14, 1908, with a game with Blairsville, which ended in a tie score 5 to 5. The next game, Jan. 15, 1909, was with Geneva College, who hold the championship of Western Pennsylvania, and who defeated us 33-8. On Monday evening, Feb. 1, we played the Blairsville girls at Blairsville. The game ended with a tie score; but we played three minntes extra time and won, 7-5.

The following girls are in the lineup: Bertha Weigle, center; Mary B. Cunningham and Olive Elkin, guards; Mabelle Ely and Alice Kepple, forwards; Ella Chatham, substitute. The team has been coached by Newell Douglass and Blaine McCreight, and much credit is due to them.

FACULTY CHANGES.

Mr. Bell, head of the department of pedagogy, accepted a flattering offer from the Normal School, East Stroudsburg, Pa. We were fortunate enough to obtain the help of Miss Van Dyke. Miss Van Dyke is another valuable addition from the University of Michigan.

MARRIAGES.

Mr. John Howard Shores and Miss Lou Brallier '01 were married Nov. 21st at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Carl Irving, of Boise City. Idaho. Their home address is Nampa, Idaho. Miss Brallier, who was reelected a teacher in the public schools of Indiana was forced to resign her position on account of her health and went west last summer where she has been living with her aunt. Her Normal friends wish her all happiness.

The marriage of Mr. Robert M. Ewing and Miss Eleanor McCrea occurred on Dec. 16, 1908. Mr. Ewing's first wife was Miss Annie Davis '90.

On December 2 James F. Chapman. '96 county superintendent of Indiana county, was married to Miss Besse Cunningham '03, at the home of the bride. Among the out-oftown guests present were: Mrs. Jasper Augustine, of Uniontown; Mrs. Clarence Harmony, of Johnstown; Miss May Wilson, of Wilkinsburg: Mrs. M. M. He is the very sneeessful superintendent of the schools of Indiana, where he and Mrs. Work have a hospitable home.

Prof. Albert T. Church and Miss Anna Belle Watson '01 were married in the Presbyterian church in Johnstown by Rev. F. B. Foster. Their attendants were Prof. Leroy Wolff and Miss May McMasters. Prof. and Mrs. Church will make their home at No. 531 Somerset street, Johnstown.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Bennett, '00, to Mr. Orville Anderson Ellwood took place Dec. 24th,

The engagement of Miss Florence Crombie '02 to John Lloyd Taylor of Oakmont was announced at a lunchcon given by Mrs. Harry W. Willock, a cousin of Miss Crombie's. The Herald sends congratulations.

We are late in announcing it, because our information—was belated, that Margaret Davidson '99 is—now Mrs. J. H. Arbuthnot—of 82 Woodside Ave., Buffalo, N. Y. Since Mrs. Arbuthnot belongs to the class which will be holding its tenth anniversary this summer, we hope—to see her—and not her alone.

DEATHS.

Ella M. Soles '94 died Nov. 6th at the family home in North Braddock. Her death was not unexpected, as she had been suffering the past two years with nervous diseases. graduating from the Normal. Soles taught for five years in Braddock and then was elected to a position in the Highland schools in Pittsburg. She was one of the best known primary teachers of that vicinity and possessed ability varied and rare. In the memory of her Normal friends Miss Soles stands as a refined, eapable, studious girl. She was loval. to her friends,—of whom she many, faithful to duty, and her quiet, earnest life is an honor to her school and a comfort to all who loved her.

Mrs. W. H. Forman, the mother of William O. and Alfred Forman of the class of '05, died Nov. 11th at her home in Townville, Pa. Her death will bring a feeling of personal be-reavement to her friends, as she was a kind, gentle, Christian woman. Her sons have the sympathy of all their Normal friends—a sympathy the greater because they also lately lost their sister, who died last July in Manchester, England.

Miss Jane St. Clair, daughter the late Mr. and Mrs. John St. Clair. of Indiana, died in the sanitarium, at Batavia, about 50 miles from Chicago, on Dec. 17th, at 1:30 o'clock. in Chicago—since September, being confined in the sanitarium 16 weeks Death was caused by a complication of diseases. She had not been at her place—principal of a school previous to her death. Miss St. Clair was a member of the class of '79 and one of the founders of the Huyghen-Literary Society. Since her graduation, she taught in the Pennsyvania and Chicago schools. As a result of her own work, she ammassed considerable property which she left to her sister, Agnes St. Clair, '83, She remembered all her nephews, nieces and some other relatives by smaller gifts.

Reed Schall, a member of the present junior class, died of typhoid fever Feb. 7th, at his home in Rockville, Armstrong county. This was Reed's first term at the Normal, but during the few short weeks of his stay with us he showed himself to be an industrious, faithful, wide-awake student. He was a member of the Lutheran church and a constant attendant at all of its services.

In connection with the teachers' institute at Kittanning, the Indiana Normal Alumni and students held their annual banquet and dance at the Reynolds House there after the lecture on Wednesday evening. The guests of honor were Misses Jane E. Leonard and Hope Stewart, and Prof. J. N. K. Hickman, of the Normal faculty, and the institute instructors.

The former Normalites were entertained by Mmc. Gnyer-George, vocalist: Mrs. Eyler, pianist; Miss Klugh of Apollo, and Dr. Bible, readers. Toasts were responded to by Miss Leonard, Dr. Bible, Prof. Gibson, who is a Normal graduate, Prof. Hickman, Dr. Eyler and Mr. Milliron.

The officers of the previous year were re-elected as follows: President, Miss McMullen, of Apollo; secretary, Miss Nellie E. Hudson, of Kittanning; treasurer, Bird Johnston, of Apollo.

Clubs of our Pittsburg girls have become popular institutions. Every now and then we hear of a new one, the latest of which is composed of a group of '97 girls who were "best friends" at school. We mean Lyde Johnson, Grace Lacock, Emelia Feucht, Martha Henry and of course Letitia Lacock, '01. A new feature instituted by these girls is that whenever one entertains, the other four come on Friday night and remain until Monday morning.

On the 5th of March the class of 1889 were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnston of Homewood. Dr. Johnston is a very successful and busy physician, but he finds time for other things. This meeting was in response to his invitation and looked forward to a rennion of the class in June at Indiana for the celebration of its twentieth aniversary. were present Mrs. S. C. Johnson (Tillie Booth), Mr. S. C. Johnson, Jessie H. Hardie, Emily North, Mrs. William Esler (Ella M. Slater), Mr. William Esler, Minnie Turner (we punish her for not giving us her new name and address in the catalogue). W. M. Devinney, Mrs. Devinney, Prof. A. C. Gordon, Mrs. A. C. Gordon, W. A. Minteer, William H. Whitfield, Mrs. Whitfield; also Mr. Joe C. Trees, Mrs. Trees, Jane E. Leonard and others. Most of the class, who were unable to be present sent interesting letters which were read and which added greatly to the oc-The class is arranging to celebrate its twentieth anniversary at Indiana at the coming commencement. They will of course be the guests of the faculty and trustees and everything possible will be done to make the affair one one of usual interest. These rennions the classes at the school are the great occasions of the year. Some of the members of this class are living at such a distance that we can hardly hope to have them with us. but still may it not be possible for them to make their pilgrimage to ern Pennsylvania at a time of the year, which will bring them to Indiana the last of June. We hope that every member of the class will be present either in person or by letters telling of themselves and of the twenty years that have passed since their graduation. Since the meeting at Dr. Johnston's we speak the more confidently about the value of letters in increasing the interest of these meetings.

The coming commencement is the tenth anniversary of the class of 1899. There should be a very large and enthusiastic celebration of this event. The class had over a hundred members, all living except two, and then there have been many additions to the class since their graduation day. The class has also the good fortune of having six of its most earnest and loyal members residents of Indiana. These have already taken the matter up and started the ball rolling. If the others will respond with the same heartiness, a large and enthusiastic reunion is assured. We hardly see how the class can fail in having a good time on the beautiful campus, in the grove, and on our broad verandas during those June days, if all will come in the gennine spirit of fun and friendliness. A letter has probably been already sent out by the Indiana members and the trustees and faculty take this opportunity of adding their hope and good will. Of course the class will be the guests of the school and everything will be done to secure success and to make the anniversary a pleasant memory.

COMMERCIAL NOTES.

Much interest has been shown by the students in the commercial department the past term and even more is expected the coming term as the students are not only enthusiastic in their work but also in class spirit.

Pennants and postcards have been secured. The pennant is slate having on it a neat monogram of the letters N. B. S. in crimson edged with gold. The monogram was designed by Ruth Foresman, a student in the art department. Pins have been ordered and will probably be ready for the students at the beginning of the spring term.

The two years' course which was put on trial this year is proving so satisfactory this year that Prof. Race hopes by next year to have no course under two years. Some changes are being made in the present schedule of studies but by the time our new catalogue goes to press the plans will have been completed and full explanations will be given.

The following is a list of students attending school last year who now
